Notes about Authors

Kamil Jański graduated from the MA program in American Studies with specialization in Latin America at the Institute of American Studies and Polish Diaspora of Jagiellonian University. Author of several chapters in scientific monographs on international security and participant of several scientific conferences. Winner of the Award of the Dean of the Faculty of International and Political Studies, Jagiellonian University for the best thesis defended in the academic year 2020/2021. His research interests oscillate around narcoculture, challenges, and social problems in Latin America.

Anna Jastrzębiec-Witowska received her PhD in humanities/sociology from Jagiellonian University in Cracow, Poland in 2010. She also received an MA in European Studies in 1999 from the University of Exeter in England and an MA in sociology in 1998, also from Jagiellonian. In her academic work, she has specialized in rural sociology and sustainable food systems, with an emphasis on the civic aspects of alternative agriculture and the building of sustainable communities and food economies. Her professional experience includes working with international NGOs and the local government in Dąbrowa Tarnowska in Małopolska Province, Poland.

Maciej Kapek is an MA student of the Institute of American Studies and Polish Diaspora and a BA student of Romanian Philology in Jagiellonian University in Cracow. His research interests comprise cultural dimensions of food, national myths, and factors contributing to collective identity. He has published papers on Puritan cuisine in New England, frontier myth in American tall tales, and the myth of John Paul II in contemporary Polish culture. Currently, he is researching the 19th century immigrant cuisine in America, as well as modern aspects of the Dacian myth in Romanian culture.

Dawid Przywalny, PhD and graduate of International Relations, is a comic books researcher, Americanist, and film expert. In his academic explorations, he focuses on finding, analyzing, and describing the connections between the world of politics and the works of pop culture. He obtained his PhD at the beginning of 2021 with the dissertation Terrorism, Politics and Civil Liberties in the American Comics after September 11, 2001, Based on a Comics Analysis of Marvel Comics, DC Comics and Image Comics. He is also the author of the monograph The Batman’s Myth as a Reflection of Contemporary America. An Analysis of Comic Book Movie Adaptations (1989-2012) [BookOne, 2014].

Kiyotaka Sueyoshi is a PhD student at the University of Szeged, Hungary, holder of the Hungarian Stupendicum scholarship. He holds an MA degree in American Studies. He defended his thesis Walt Whitman’s Common Sense in 2019. His research interests are American Renaissance and American Enlightenment. Currently, he is developing his doctoral dissertation on the mediation between the textual and contextual reading of Walt Whitman.

AIMS AND SCOPE

Ad Americam. Journal of American Studies is an open-access interdisciplinary journal edited once a year at Institute of American Studies and Polish Diaspora, Jagiellonian University, Krakow, Poland. The journal publishes double-blind peer-reviewed articles by scholars on North and Latin American history, politics, law, culture, sociology, comparative and interdisciplinary studies. Thus, the academic community is the journal’s primary readership.

The journal does not publish book(s) review articles.

Please be aware that license agreement will be signed between the Publisher and the Author after accepting the final manuscript for publication.

Prospective author(s) must include the ORCID identification number (https://orcid.org/) when submitting the manuscript for consideration. For details on manuscript preparation please refer to the section below.

Contributors of any academic affiliations are welcomed. Likewise, edited volumes are encouraged; please contact editors for details.

The journal is financially supported by the Jagiellonian University’s Faculty of International and Political Studies. No advertisements are considered for publication.

MANUSCRIPT PREPARATION

The article should be formatted in double-spacing, 12-point font. Leave 2.5 cm margins on all sides of page. Contributions MUST include keywords and abstract of the article (of approximately 200 words). Contact address and a short biographical note (of approximately 100 words) must also be submitted but saved in a separate file. Authors should remove all self-identification information (e.g. names, institutional affiliations, email addresses) from articles. Any such material may be added back into the manuscript, if it is accepted for publication.

Spelling must confirm to American usage, please check if it is consistent throughout.

References to other works: please follow the MLA style. In-text citations should be placed, within parentheses, at the appropriate locations within the text. Each citation should consist of the author’s last name (or authors’ last names), followed by page number(s).

In case of any doubts, please refer to http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/747/01/.

Any notes should be numbered consecutively and placed, also doubled spaced, at the bottom of the page. Authors are responsible for using proper DOI numbers in their notes.

Any acknowledgments, declaration of conflicting interests or statements of financial support should be placed in an unnumbered note at the bottom of the first page.
The section heading for the list of works cited should be “References,” not “Bibliography.” References should not be numbered.

Manuscripts that are failing to meet the particular style goals of the journal, will not be sent out for review.

SUBMISSIONS

All contributions should be sent via Publisher’s submission system: http://www.journals.akademicka.pl/adamerican/about/submissions.
